

In the interest of providing a diversity of information and viewpoints for our democracy I am against any changes in rules which would allow fewer owners to control more news sources in a given market area.